J. A. CALDER, school inspector, arrived from Calgary on Thursday's train to inspect a number of schools in this district. He visited South Edmonton schools on Friday, and will visit Edmonton school to-day. He says that the new Edmonton school building is the best of its size in Alberta, and is suitable and commodious in every way.
C. GALLAGHER slaughtered a pig on Saturday which weighed 67½ pounds, dressed. Mr. Gallagher says it is the largest pig he ever saw. Although fat enough for killing he believes that it could have been fed up to a weight of 1,000 pounds. It was bought of Mr. Carnegie, of the Sturgeon settlement, and was eighteen months old. It showed good breeding, but Mr. Gallagher did not know what the breed was. The color was white.
A CONVERSATION was held in Hounston's hall on Friday evening. It was one of the series of penny reading entertainments given by the choir of the Presbyterian church in aid of the organ fund. There was a good attendance, and an enjoyable time was spent with music, singing and parlor games. W. Mortimer gave several selections on the violin and T. Hounston on the bagpipes. Refreshments were served. The next entertainment of the series takes place on Dec. 6th.
A LARGE number of citizens, both ladies and gentlemen, enjoyed themselves on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day by skating, curling and playing hockey at Horse lakes, about five miles from town near the St. Albert road. The ice was in fine condition, and the weather was pleasantly sharp. Two sheets of ice for curling were laid out and several enjoyable games played. Insn. Snyder and Ed. Looby were skippers of opposing rinks as were Jas. McDonald and A. Taylor. As the players changed off frequently so as to give all the curlers present a chance to play, the games were rather confused as to records, but were none the less pleasant. The hockey players were not in sufficient force to have a set game, but they had some practice games. The skaters enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

V. ANDERSON, implement dealer of Calgary, is in town visiting his father, Thos. Anderson.

P. L. McNAMARA is removing his law office to-day to the rooms over the Jacques Cartier bank.

W. L. WOOD, of the H. B. Co., at the Landing, returned from Calgary on Thursday's train and went north on Saturday.

Two glandered horses were destroyed last week near Limestone lake by veterinary Haworth. They belonged to Mr. Erasmus. Another case is suspected in the same vicinity.

E. F. CAREY and his son Edward returned from Banff on Monday's train of last week. Mr. Carey is somewhat improved in health, and will probably make another visit shortly.

W. B. BARWIS, district manager for the Manufacturers Life and Accident Insurance Companies, came in on Thursday's train from Calgary on a business trip. He will return by rail.

OATS are quoted at $16.00 a ton or 27c. a bushel in Vancouver, with 12c. a bushel freight. This cuts Edmonton completely out of the Vancouver market, at anything over 12c. to 15c. a bushel. What about that ten cents a bushel protective duty?

THANKSGIVING services were held in the Presbyterian church on Thursday morning last, at eleven o'clock by Rev. D. G. McQueen in All Saints' church at 8 o'clock in the evening by Rev. A. Stundeen, and in the Baptist church at 8 o'clock in the evening by R. J. Manson.

THOS. HOUSTON has two white partridges or partridge shot by D. E. Noyes during his recent trip to the mountains with J. Alden Loring, United States naturalist, and also a pair of the same kind of birds, but with plumage nearly altogether colored like that of a partridge and only a small part of the feathers white. They are quite an oddity and very much handsomer than the white birds.

THE sale of farm stock and implements belonging to the estates of the late Thos. Hutchings and of J. W. Tingley, which took place at the farm of T. G. Hutchings, Poplar lake, on Saturday last was well attended. Twenty-four head of cattle and three horses were disposed of besides effects. Calves averaged $7 each, yearlings $14.50, two year olds $18, and cows $16. Turnbull & McAdams were the auctioneers.

THE ice was jammed in the river this morning from the point below Fraser mill to the electric light station. From there to Ross' point the river was clear. At Ross' point there was another jam. There is good crossing for small boats between the jams. It will be three weeks to-night since the ferries ceased running on account of floating ice. They have run for two or three days since, but for the greater part of the three weeks crossing has only been by small boat.

M. McCauley returned on Friday from a trip to Limestone lake, whither he had taken the four Austrians, whose arrival has been already mentioned. There is a settlement of some twelve families of Austrians a few miles east of Edna post office, who are from the same part of Austria as the new arrivals, and it is with them the new comers will stop. There has been a great deal of damage done by prairie fires in the vicinity of Limestone lake, but there is still hay enough left to winter the cattle if the spring is not too late. The present mild weather is a great advantage. Limestone lake is nearly dry.

OWING to unavoidable circumstances the dedicatory services of the new Methodist church at Sturgeon river has been postponed until Sunday next, Dec. 1st. Rev. Mr. Dean will preach dedicatory sermon at 11 a. m., Rev. Mr. Forbes will preach at 3 p. m., and at 7.30 p. m. Rev. Mr. Whiteside is expected to be present and conduct service. On the following Tuesday evening, Dec. 3rd, the ladies of the congregation will give an entertainment consisting of a supper followed by an illustrated lecture entitled "A trip through the Rockies," by Rev. Mr. Dean. Admission to entertainment 25 cents. Everybody come.

THE BULLETIN begs to acknowledge with thanks the compliments which it has received from its esteemed contemporaries on both sides of the river in respect to its item as to the effigy affair of the 13th inst. At the same time it may be as well to announce that notwithstanding anything contained in or to be inferred from the aforesaid compliments, the BULLETIN did not kill the late W. T. Rees; it did not telegraph to Calgary that he died of an overdose of bad whiskey; it did not nail or cause to be nailed an execution on the door of the dwelling in which his dead body lay; it did not instigate or hint retaliation on the part of anyone or assist in the most remote degree at any of the festivities connected with the burning of the effigy. It simply stated a certain series of facts as they occurred in pursuance of the understanding which exists between itself and its patrons—namely that they shall be furnished with the current news of the town and district. The aforesaid esteemed amount have since occupied a considerable amount of their more or less valuable space in using abusive language towards the BULLETIN in regard to this matter—presumably because it published the news—thereby holding out to parties interested that their alleged news columns are for sale, while at the same time advertising as far as their limited circulation and still more restricted reliability will permit, that those of the BULLETIN are not. The moral is: If you want the news subscribe for the BULLETIN. There is no string on it.

GEO. T. BRAGG has purchased for G. A. Stimson, of Toronto, the debentures recently sold by the town of Edmonton, amounting to $4,033.65 bearing interest at 6 per cent. The price paid is one per cent. premium and the accrued interest, which on some of them runs up to a considerable amount.

THE HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY

INCORPORATED 1670.

Is not, as may be supposed, an antiquated and fossilised institution, but a live, modern, up-to-date business enterprise, placing two and a quarter centuries' experience at the service of the public.

Our stock comprises :

Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots & Shoes
Groceries and Provisions,
Wines, Spirits and Liquors,
Crockery and Glassware.

Of these we carry a complete and varied assortment, carefully selected, to cover all known and anticipated requirements of the district, and besides we are always prepared, through our wide-spread connections and exceptional facilities, to place any unusual order to the best advantage.

The advantages we offer are :

We import direct—we buy first hand, almost invariably from the manufacturers, and pay cash for all our purchases.

We renew often—our goods are always fresh, seasonable, and up to date.

We secure the lowest freight rates on all we import, as we always handle carloads when desirable.

We have no accumulation of old stocks to palm off on the unsuspecting—we have less old goods on our shelves than will be found in any haphazard and unsystematic store.

Our expenses are low and are carefully proportioned to our business.

Our margin of profit is very low and carefully adjusted—we never price our goods at what they will stand but at the lowest figures at which we can afford to sell them.

We are therefore doing business on the best business principles and under the most advantageous conditions and place these advantages at the service of our customers. Our effort is not merely to sell our goods but to satisfy purchasers and give them the best value obtainable.

Special attention is given to orders by mail. When inconvenient to make your purchases personally, write us, giving a full description of goods wanted, and prompt delivery will be made in accordance with your instructions. You will effect as good a bargain thus as you would personally. Cash should accompany all orders for shipment by mail, but express parcels may be C. O. D.

BUTTER AND EGGS.

The tremendous fall in the price of these two farm staples in the markets of the world during the past twelve months was felt very severely in this district where for the first time in the history of the settlement the bottom fell out of prices and butter was refused by wholesale at the stores. The loss that this entailed on the farming community of all classes is much greater than would be supposed. The well-to-do farmers depended on their butter and eggs to keep the house running during the summer and many of the new settlers had nothing else to depend upon to procure necessary groceries. To cut off in a number of cases and to cripple in all cases this source of farm revenue meant a great loss to the district the effect of which was felt in every line of trade. What made the matter worse, it was so unexpected. Butter at least was a sure thing and eggs nearly as good. They were the prop upon which all felt safe to lean. But the prop gave way, and it could not be helped. The prices in outside markets had gone so low that the products would not pay freight and agent's charges. It is not doing those who could not dispose of their butter and eggs last summer and who at this season have none to dispose of much immediate good to know that prices have gone up in the world's markets, and that to-day both butter and eggs are as good stock as they have usually been. But still the situation is worth thinking over. Wheat, which is the staple article of the western world's food supply, can be held over from year to year without great cost or damage. Consequently when there is an overproduction of wheat it may take years to work off the surplus. Although butter and eggs are staple food products also, they cannot under ordinary circumstances be held over from year to year, and consequently a glut of either commodity causes production to fall off, and as stocks cannot be held over a scarcity results. So that whenever there is a glut of butter or eggs we may almost confidently predict a scarcity at no great distance ahead. It is not necessary to argue that butter and eggs are necessarily staple products of this district. They will always be produced for home consumption, because the conditions are entirely favorable; and if advantage can be taken of the world's markets the production can be increased indefinitely. The trouble is that when butter and eggs are abundant here, they are likely to be as abundant elsewhere, and therefore that is not usually the time to sell to make money. The creamery butter that was shipped to the coast in August, and which netted the patrons 5c. a pound, would, if available for the same market to-day, net them about 20c. a pound. Although no effort was made to export eggs the case was the same in regard to them. The secret of success in producing both butter and eggs is scientific cold storage so that they can be produced when production costs least and held without damage until fair prices can be obtained. That cold storage is effective in regard to butter, the vast importation of Australian butter into England is proof. This butter is made in a tropical climate and taken on a sea voyage across the equator and half around the world and yet is sold at a much higher figure than Canadian butter, which has made the comparatively short voyage without cold storage. Since its recent rise in price last year butter that otherwise would have been used as axle grease, has been sold in Montreal for a good figure, having been kept in cold storage over a year. Cold storage facilities are just as necessary for the successful handling of butter and eggs in this modern age as elevators are for the storing and handling of grain. It is not likely that an independent company will establish a cold storage business in Edmonton as has been done in Calgary, but it might be possible for the butchers and storekeepers who are immediately interested to combine in a company to provide such facilities as would enable the district to make the most out of all its perishable farm products.

THE H. B. CO. AT EDMONTON.

It is a long time since the Company first came to Edmonton. So long ago that no one here or hereabouts can give any light on the subject. The store, office and warehouses which are now known as the Fort are all that remain of a large palisaded enclosure with blockhouses on the four corners in which cannon peeped through the port holes and facilities were afforded for the most effective use of small arms on unwelcome visitors. The enclosure surrounded a small town in which all branches of industry and commerce suitable to the country were carried on. There was a blacksmith shop, carpenter shop, boat building shed, harness shop and even a mill, run by horsepower. The population of the little city ran into the hundreds. This was the Fort as it was within the memory of man. But before the present fort was built there was one still older, situated on the river flat, half a mile further down the river than the present site, of which the cellars in part remain as well as the boat landing on the river. There are traditions that the old site was abandoned for the present one on account of high water having flooded the flat where the old fort was situated. But when that fort was first built even tradition does not say. Certainly it was before the amalgamation of the Northwest and Hudson's Bay Companies in the 20's, for there are remains on what is known as the upper flat, which mark the site of a Northwest company's fort. And in the days of the rivalry of the two great companies, wherever the one built a fort the other built also. Which was here first no one knows, but at any rate the Hudson's Bay Company did all the business of Edmonton for the greater part of the present century, and does a large share of that business still. In the early days Edmonton was the stronghold of the company on the Saskatchewan and on its transcontinental trade route to the Pacific. Now Edmonton is the shipping point of the company for the vast Mackenzie river region north to the Arctic sea. Then the inland boats brought goods from York factory up the Saskatchewan to Edmonton, and pack horses carried them on from here to the waters of the Columbia. Now the railroad brings the supplies for the North to Edmonton and freighters' teams take them on to the Landing to be shipped on the Athabasca and Mackenzie steamers. Then the Blackfoot Indians, of the south, the Wood Crees of the north and the Stonies from the Rocky Mountains, made Edmonton their chief trading point. Now the trade of the great and rapidly developing agricultural region of the upper Saskatchewan centres at Edmonton, and the fur trade of the vast Mackenzie basin as well. With the enormous interests which the Hudson's Bay Company have centred at Edmonton it is only to be expected that their establishment here, now as in former years, should be on the very largest scale. Their freighting between Edmonton and the Landing runs into many thousands of dollars every year. In order to handle the immense business centred here in connection with the fur trade and at the same time keep pace with the rapid development of the immediately surrounding country in their local trade the company found it necessary some years ago to divide their Edmonton business into two district branches, as they had long ago done with their Winnipeg business, one handling the fur business and the freighting and distributing connected with it, and the other competing on the most modern principles and with all the advantages which unlimited capital and immense handlings could give for the general trade of the town and district. To this end commodious and attractive premises were erected on the principal business street of Edmonton, where they have since carried on a general store business, such as they had already established and found profitable in Calgary and MacLeod, where as well as in Winnipeg they do the leading business of the place. Although running separate from the fur department of the company's business, the town store, as it is called, has the advantage of the enormous amount of freight continually required at this point for the fur business, so that whatever goods the town store may need it never pays more than car lot rates, whether the shipment is from Winnipeg or Montreal. This in itself is a great advantage in transacting a business in which it is necessary to keep up a full supply of everything that the citizen or settler wants. In the purchase of goods the company takes advantage of its unlimited capital and enormous business to do its own wholesaling. The central depot for the Northwest in Winnipeg twice each year sends its best and most modern buyers to Europe to purchase from the manufacturers the class of goods required. These goods have no sooner reached Winnipeg than they are met by representatives of the many town stores of the company in Manitoba and the Territories, who select what they require, and if what they require is not included in the company's own stock it is procured without delay. While the fur business of the company is run on very much the same lines as it was fifty years ago the town stores are handled on the most modern principles, and are proving a great success. It is beyond question a great advantage to any district or to any town to have such an institution as the Hudson's Bay Company doing business in it. It gives a standing and permanence to the place and attracts business by increasing competition so that there is more business for others, even competitors, and not less. There is no doubt that the Hudson's Bay Company's town store under the able management of G. J. Kinnaird is a tower of strength to the business of Edmonton, as well as a source of profit to the company. And the advantage of its presence to the purchasing community should not be overlooked. For a newly settled and far outlying district such as this to have all the advantages as to goods and prices that the oldest commercial institution on the continent—as well as one of the richest—can give, is very greatly in its favor, not only as regards the wealthy lady who wants the greatest choice in the articles of her selection, but also to the poor settler to whom a cent on a pound of groceries makes a difference that he can feel.

Dr. R. B. Henry will be the liberal candidate in Cardwell, Ont.

Choice white oats are quoted at 16c. to 17c. in Winnipeg. Barley 10c. to 19c. for feed and 20c. to 21c. for malting.

Pickled Canadian eggs are reported as selling at eight shillings for ten dozen in Glasgow, equal to 20 cents a dozen.

The Montreal Trade Bulletin fears that the price of pork will fall shortly, owing to large supplies in the Western States.

The World says it hears on good authority that it is not at all unlikely Meredith will contest Cardwell on the government platform of remedial legislation.

An at home in honor of Lieutenant-governor Dewdney, of British Columbia, ex-lieutenant-governor of the Territories, was held at government house, Regina, on Nov. 16th.

Morden Herald: The C. P. R. land department, owing to the recent reductions in the price of grain, have reduced the amount they are allowing for grain in payment of land accounts on all No. 1 hard. Hitherto the company has taken No. 1 hard, No. 2 hard and No. 1 Northern, at 50c. a bushel, but it was announced last week that they would reduce the last two mentioned grades 3 cents per bushel, to 47c.; they will still however, allow 50c. for No. 1 hard, which is about 8c. more than the market price at present.

AGRICOLA.

Correspondence.

Several of our settlers who came from the United States are preparing to return to their native land. Many of them will leave behind them improvements of considerable value. In conversation with these people we find nearly all of them like the country and are satisfied with its agricultural capabilities, but they say they feel that they can make a living when all they have to sell is so very cheap and all they have to do is to work very hard and they are much reason for making such a statement.

A prominent Dakota farmer who came here to see the country in October last said to your correspondent "I like your country, your climate and soil and I believe that for grain and stock it is unequalled on the continent of America, but I must confess I haven't got sand enough in my composition to settle here for I don't see how I can make ends meet. Your government is virtually the C. P. R., and while they appear to be doing all in their power to settle up the country with one hand, with the other they are making it as difficult as possible for your settlers to live with high freight rates and by allowing their lands to be locked up in the possession of non-residents who decline to pay taxes or do statute labor, leaving all the burden of developing the country on the shoulders of those who appear to have a hard struggle to establish their new homes."

Unfortunately we all know to our cost that what this man said is very near the truth, and we know also that while the present condition of affairs exists that despite the most strenuous efforts of our government, Mr. Van Horne, to populate the country, the capacity of the C. P. R. will prove as it has done in the past the most formidable obstacle to the development of the Northwest.

We may congratulate ourselves on the withdrawal of Mr. Daly's immigration agents, most of whom were men who had no interest whatever in the development of the country and who cared little for anything beyond drawing their salaries and having a general good time, indeed nothing else might be expected from men who knew nothing of farming and who did not even live in the Northwest, which was the case with three exceptions. During 1893 certain of Mr. Daly's agents (glowing with the enthusiasm born of that vigorous immigration policy which so miserably perished) might have been seen driving around the country followed by parties of men from the United States whom they had brought here to see the country. Most of these men bought C. P. R. lands, but not one in twenty became residents, or ever paid school or statute labor taxes as every collector of taxes can testify.

Unless something can be done to ameliorate the condition of the farmer we may look in vain for the settlement of the country, not because it lacks excellence in all its natural conditions, but because not a single effort has been made by the Dominion government or the C. P. R. to make the existence of the actual settler as advantageous as the resources of the country would lead him to expect.

MORE AXON.

INNISFAIR.

The weather down here has been very open lately, but has now altered. We have had two or three slight falls of snow, but none promised to remain and then quick. That which has fallen since Sunday however, looks as if it would stay, as the weather, to day is bright, clear and frosty. Yesterday and last night were stormy, almost rising to a blizzard at times.

The crops round here have threshed out very fairly, considering everything, and of course the crops of hay, straw and roots were large and of excellent quality.

There have been several marriages round here lately and more are in the wind. Those of Frank Ross to Miss Vasy, W. Campbell to Miss Langton and T. Dobson to Miss J. Murray, might be mentioned. Messrs. Ross and Dobson live in town, and Mr. Campbell on his farm to the east of Bowden.

The snow is bringing the game down from the back lands. A number of deer have been seen, and some shot, at no great distance from town, and several bear have been sighted in the vicinity.

The Murray hotel is now closed, both Mr. and Mrs. Murray having left the district.

Joseph Fletcher, a boy of 17, living near Bowden, who has been subject to epileptic fits during the most of his life, developed signs of insanity a week or two ago, and was sent to Regina in charge of Constable Hetherington, by Justices Fream and Lauder. These gentlemen tried a charge of obtaining goods under false pretences, brought by Mr. Malcolm, of Antler Hill, Mr. Shaw, for the defence, showed to the satisfaction of the bench that it was a civil, and not a criminal case, and the charge was accordingly dismissed.

A much needed road has been put through this month by Mr. Simpson, M. L. A. It is in a line with the Main street of the town and some six miles to the east of it. The work consisted in chopping and grubbing out some two miles of poplar and willow bush. The new road will be a boon to the settlers in Pleasant Valley and in the country to the east, who have hitherto, between fences and stumps, had endless trouble in getting into town.

Mr. Remillard and family have returned to town for the winter, from the Crow's Nest pass, where he has been working for Mr. A. W. Gillingham.

W. B. Osbourn, solicitor, has left the town.

Mr. Shaw, of Haultain & McKenzie's law office, Macleod, has been visiting Captain and Mrs. Harper, and left for home on Tuesday's train.

Mrs. Lucas went to Calgary last week and returned on Monday, bringing one of her sons with her, who has been on a visit to friends at Indian Head.

Mr. West is now thoroughly established in his new position on Alberta street, and seems to be doing a good business. Mr. Dettler has chosen a new site almost opposite Mr. West, and will move his store from its present position on the north side of town, within the next few weeks. His family are occupying Mr. Scott's building near the post office.

The committee of "cranks" gave a most enjoyable ball a couple of weeks ago, and intend holding some literary and social meetings, open to the public, in the near future.

THAT ANTI-TAX REBELLION.

A Montreal despatch of Nov. 19th says: Quiet has been restored in the Lowe township and village. The presence of the military had a startlingly sudden effect on the delinquent taxpayers who yielded at the first glimpse of them. There was no fighting, not even a squabble, but the residents are much annoyed at themselves and each other at the expense which the Township has been put to. The troops are enjoying their outing. Delinquents are now tumbling over each other in an effort to pay their taxes into the treasurer's hands. Some have not paid for fifteen years and the dollar or two of the original amounts have grown prodigiously, some debtors are making frantic efforts to scrape the money together.

The township has been without a council ever since the trouble began, but the municipal government is now entirely re-organized, seven men being at a mass meeting of farmers, elected councillors. The whole affair is practically over and the troops will be withdrawn at once.

GENERAL NEWS.

Commercial Nov. 16: The grain movement has kept up fairly large this week, but the amount of Manitoba wheat shipped east of our lake ports is still considerably under last year to date, for the season. There has been practically no movement in other grains yet and the crop of oats and barley may be said to be unbroken. Considerable seed, however, has been shipped out. Two weeks more will about wind up grain shipments by the lakes, and after that grain will have to accumulate in store here, or be shipped out all rail at higher freight rates. With prices sagging in the markets the past two weeks the outlook for values is not very hopeful after the close of navigation, unless in the meantime wheat should take a spurt in outside markets.

Toronto despatch says: "A gentleman in official circles just arrived from Montreal, says, that although the Manitoba government will never consent to the re-establishment of separate schools, it is understood the reply of the Manitoba ministry to Ottawa will embrace one or more important concessions. It is said Mr. Greenway is sick and would do anything for the sake of peace, but the trouble comes from Messrs. Sifton and Watson. It is said the local government will agree to make the schools absolutely nonsectarian, and that any tinge of Protestantism that may have crept in will be done away with. The objections to historical works used in the schools will be satisfactorily met and ministers and priests will be permitted to come to the schools after 3 o'clock, and give religious teachings to the children whose parents may so desire."

The Winnipeg Commercial's Vancouver correspondent says of the markets there under date of Nov. 12th. For the week past wholesale men report business improved. The chief feature in the market is the advance of butter, eggs and cheese. The last quotation received from Manitoba for creamery butter was 25 cents. No butter is being received from Manitoba or the Northwest. The only eastern creamery being purchased in Montreal at 24, with a probable advance by the time this statement appears in print. There is no dairy offering. All the old state butter has been worked off. One firm had several hundred tubs. Two or three months ago they commenced to dispose of it at 23 and three cents a pound, but eventually they could not get rid of it even at these prices. They had made up their minds to sell it as a lubricant, when butter commenced to advance in price. Yesterday the lot was disposed of at 15 cents a pound. Local butter is bringing fancy prices. There is no dairy offering. Eggs are very scarce.

FORDING EXTRAORDINARY.

On Saturday forenoon W. Walker's traction thrasher forded the river at the usual ford above Walter's ferry. Ice was running thickly in the river and the water was deep as to almost come into the fire box. Steam was raised and it was thought that it would hold steam long enough, to take it across. The engine crashed through the shore ice dragging the separator after it and proceeded without mishap until about the middle of the river was reached, when, on the wheels dropping suddenly off a large stone, the projecting tender on which the men were standing and on which their wood was piled, broke off and let men and tender and wood into the water. This occasioned a halt, but the journey was soon resumed, minus the separator, however, and the south side reached in safety. The separator was taken across with horses on Sunday. The idea of running an engine across a river 700 feet wide, with water in the fire box instead of fire may fairly be claimed to be original with Frank Walker, son of W. Walker, who was in charge of the outfit. The machine had been working in St. Albert and on the Sturgeon, and the owners were anxious to get it across the river so as to finish threshing at home. To be delayed on the north side with the threshing gang under expenses meant a great loss, hence the chances that were taken.

Bellamy—Picard. That the secretary of the board of trade be informed that negotiations with regard to the Edmonton district railway are progressing favorably, and that the council expects shortly to have some definite information to lay before the public.

Cameron—Bellamy moved the adoption of the report of the finance committee.

LOCAL.

T. A. STEPHEN is occupying the eastern wing of Hutton's warehouse as a business office.

THURSDAY'S train brought 2 cars of flour from Portage la Prairie for Larue & Picard, and Gariepy & Chénier; 1 car hardware from Montreal for Ross Bros.; 1 car apples from Oakville, Ont., for Jas. Lauder; 1 car shingles from Vancouver for D. R. Fraser and 1 way car.

On Friday, Nov. 22nd, before Insp. Snyder the case of J. Gibson against J. S. McDermott, a claim for wages under the masters' and servants' ordinance was tried. Judgment was given for Gibson for the amount of wages claimed, both parties paying their own costs.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hardisty, of Merchiston ranch, died suddenly on Thursday morning last. She was in apparently good health on Wednesday evening, but died some time during the night, without the parents knowing she was ill. Dr. McInnis, who was attending her elder sister on Thursday for an attack of grippe, stated that death was caused by acute inflammation of the brain. The funeral took place on Friday at the Merchiston ranch, the service being conducted by Rev. A. Stenden. Mr. and Mrs. Hardisty have the sympathy of the public in their affliction under such peculiarly distressing circumstances.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

A more than usually interesting double wedding took place in Holy Trinity church, South Edmonton, on Wednesday last, Nov. 20th, being the marriage of Mr. F. S. Ellett to Miss E. A. Andrews, and Mr. C. C. Ellett to Miss A. L. Andrews. The Messrs. Ellett are brothers and reside on adjoining farms at Sandy lake, and the brides are daughters of J. C. Andrews of Fitzroy. The contracting parties are originally from West Norwood, London, England, and were school fellows. The Messrs. Ellett came to Edmonton a number of years ago and have become successful farmers. The Misses Andrews came out last winter to join their parents who had settled in Fitzroy district, not far from Sandy lake. The ceremony took place at 11:30 a.m. and was performed by Rev. Canon Newton Ph. D. The brides were given away by their father, J. C. Andrews. G. H. Andrews, brother of the brides, acted as best man for F. S. Ellett, and John Cameron for C. C. Ellett. The church was filled with well wishers of the happy couples. The brides wore dark olive green bengaline trimmed with corded silk to match, and hats also to match, with real orange blossoms sent from England. F. H. Andrews, brother of the brides, presided at the organ and played the wedding march. At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party drove to the residence of the bride's parents, City View, Fitzroy district, where the wedding breakfast was served. The newly married couples afterwards drove to their homes at Sandy lake.

SCHOOL MEETING.

A special meeting of the board of trustees of Edmonton school district was held on Friday evening in the secretary's office. The meeting was called to consider the necessity of providing for certain liabilities accruing, pending the receipt of the debenture money and the years' taxes.

Cameron—Lauder moved that by-law No. 12 be passed to borrow $7,000 from the Imperial bank for one month at 7 per cent. interest.

Cameron—Lauder moved that the secretary write the teachers notifying them that if they at any time suspect any infectious disease amongst any of their pupils they notify the secretary or some member of the board at once of the fact.

MARKETS.

Grain is coming in slowly. No change to note in prices. Hay is coming up a little, $4.50 being paid sometimes. Fraser is still paying 50c. for the best wheat.

An officer of the interior department at Ottawa will be detailed to inquire into the circumstances under which the section of Tankers or German Baptist of Indiana desire to secure a new location, with a view to holding out inducements for some of them to settle in the Canadian Northwest. These people were originally induced by William Penn to leave Germany and locate in the United States. From a small colony they have increased to nearly 10,000, and are found in various states of the union. They are essentially farmers and would make desirable settlers. The Indiana branch are greatly dissatisfied with their land.

The Montreal Trade Bulletin reports butter having fallen a cent to a cent and a half a pound owing to heavy deliveries. The price now is 22c. to 22½c. In England prices have also fallen somewhat, and more Australian is arriving than had been expected. In the sudden jumps of the butter market in England, however, Canadian has attained an improved standing. During the summer it was at the bottom of the list; now it stands equal to Irish, being worth 120 shillings per 112 pounds against 138 shillings for Danish.
